

Football Findings

Artifacts From The First 100 Years of American Football

Update to Mystery Man in photos

Posted on July 25, 2013 by MM

Several people suggested that it was not the same player in the 1935 photo as appeared in the 1930 photo. If that's the case then it seems to me the most likely identification of the 1930 mystery man remains Hilpert, and the 1935 mystery man is most likely Tony Sarausky. The best photo I have of Sarausky is from the 1935 team picture – it's printed so it's not as clear – but for comparison I put it in place of the Wellington Mara photo on the right. Plus, if you look at the original picture, Sarausky is standing behind Newman – Sarausky is listed as 5' 11" at 192 lbs and Newman as 5' 10" at 182 pounds. To the right of Sarausky is Mel Hein listed as 6'2" at 225, so the height and weight look right for Sarausky.

2 Responses to Update to Mystery Man in photos

Dave Sarausky says:

November 3, 2013 at 7:48 pm

It is Tony Sarausky

Reply

MM says:

November 3, 2013 at 9:06 pm

Thank you for the confirmation – MM

Reply

Football Findings

Proudly powered by WordPress.