CARDINALS HISTORY

By EDDIE MCGUIRE

The Chicago Cardinals, oldest professional football club in Chicago, or any other major city in the nation, was organized in 1899 as the Morgan A. C. The team became a charter member of the American Professional Football Ass'n (the great Jim Thorpe was president of the league) when it was organized in 1920, and today the Cardinals are the only team operating in the same city they were in when the league was founded. The 1958 season will be the 58th year of competition for the Cards. The team disbanded for lack of opposition in 1907, resumed play the next season, disbanded again in 1918 due to the flu epidemic, but went into action again in 1919.

The Cardinals also won the last pro football championship Chicago has been honored with, the Big Red turning the trick in 1947 when they won the Western Division title and then defeated the Philadelphia Eagles, Eastern Division champions, 28 to 21, at Comiskey Park.

To get back to history, the Cardinals name came about when Chris O'Brien, organizer and owner of the Cards, bought some Cardinal jerseys for a pretty good price, and as the team was operating at 61st and Racine, named the team Racine Cardinals. The Racine part of the name was dropped in 1922 when the Horlick's Co. in Racine, Wis., were awarded a franchise in the National League. In 1920 there was a team operating under the name Chicago Tigers, owned by Gil Falcon, and getting into the late Chris O'Brien's hair. They were playing at Wrigley Field and questioning the Cardinals' supremacy. O'Brien challenged the Tigers, the stake being the losers franchise as a pro team. The Cardinals defeated the Tigers, 6 to 3, when Paddy Driscoll ran 40 yards for the only touchdown of the game and O'Brien owned two franchises. O'Brien had signed Driscoll to a contract calling for $300 a game, and a guarantee of $3,000 — ten games.

George Halas' team, the Stanley's of Decatur, Ill., wanted to move into Chicago but couldn't do so unless O'Brien, Chicago representative in pro football, gave his okay. The late Joe Carr, president of the American Professional Football Ass'n in 1921, appealed to O'Brien to give his permission for another pro franchise for Chicago, to be known as the Chicago Bears. In 1922 George Halas' franchise was transferred from Decatur to Chicago with O'Brien's blessing. The same year the league name was changed to the National Football League.

In 1925 the Cardinals won the league championship and O'Brien sold Driscoll to the Bears for two reasons — most important (to O'Brien) was that he needed money to pay off some debts left over from his championship season, and secondly, to give the Bears a big name to combat Red Grange who, along with C. C. Pyle, was organizing a new league.

When the Cards won the title in 1925 there were twenty teams in the league, a total exceeded only once in the league's 36 seasons of play, that being in 1926 when there were 22 teams.

The Cardinals were the first team to go to an out-of-town training camp. Dr. David J. Jones, city physician, purchased the Cards on July 27, 1929, appointed Ernie Nevers coach of the club, and they went to Coldwater, Mich. to train. It was in 1929 — Nov. 28 — when Nevers set an individual scoring mark which still stands. He scored six touchdowns and kicked four points after as the Cards beat the Bears, 40 to 6.

The most colorful and potent Cardinals team was the 1947-1948 club which the late Charlie Bidwill assembled prior to his death on April 19, 1947. In 1946 the Cards had Paul Christman at quarterback, Pat Harder at fullback and Marshall Goldberg at right halfback. Charley Trippi was due to join the club for the '47 season, and, as the late Bidwill put it "That will complete my 'Dream Backfield'." Trippi moving into the left halfback job to complete the quartet.

Unfortunately, Mr. Bidwill never lived to see this foursome in action. However, they and the rest of the personnel loved their late owner, and along with Coach Jimmy Conzelman, went on to win the world's championship for Charlie Bidwill.

That club proved the scourge of the league for those two years. Elmer Angsman, the former Notre Dame star had moved in at right half to replace Goldberg who was the league's outstanding pass defense man. With Christman, Trippi, Angsman and Harder in the backfield, and Bill Dewell and Mal Kutner as outstanding pass receiving ends the team rolled up a total of 4,351 yards and 306 points in 1947, and 4,705 yards and 395 points in 1948. The club won nine and lost three in '47 and won eleven and lost one in 1948, winning the Western Division championship both years. On Dec. 23, 1947 the Cards won the world's championship, defeating the Philadelphia Eagles, 28-21, in Comiskey Park, and on Dec. 19, 1948, in Connie Mack Stadium in Philadelphia, the Cards lost, 7 to 0, in the world's championship game.

Of the 12 teams which now constitute the membership of the National Football League, only four who were in the circuit when the Cards won the 1925 championship — the Cards, Bears, Green Bay and the New York Giants — have continued to play year in and year out without interruption. The series between the Cards and Bears and Cards and Green Bay, are the oldest in football, and it may be added, the most bitter.

In 38 years of league play and 57 seasons of football competition the Cardinals have had three owners — the previously mentioned Chris O'Brien and Dr. Jones, and the present owners, Mrs. Walter Wolfner and her sons Charles W. Jr. (Stormy) and William V. Bidwill. Mrs. Wolfner is the widow of the late Charles W. Bidwill who purchased the club October 24, 1933.

Come Back Soon... Cards and Giants

This is an important date, Sept. 28, 1958 in Buffalo sports history. It marks the first time that two National Football League teams have chosen our Civic Stadium for the opening game of their championship schedule. May it be the first of many returns for both teams to Buffalo!

I want to assure the Maras—Jack and Wellington who direct the New York Giants—and the Walter Wolfners and the Bidwill boys, Charley and Bill, who direct the Cardinals—that the welcome mat will always be out to them.

Through the years back to 1926, the Giants and Cardinals have built up one of the wonderful rivalries that have made pro football into a grand sports spectacle. You look through the 33 games of this series, dominated by the Giants, and you'll find some roaring scores like that 63-35 victory for the 1948 Cardinals.

The many thousands of Buffalonians who fondly hope for a return soon to major league football, are grateful for this opportunity to play host city to two teams of such fine reputation. I speak for Mayor Sedita and city officials in welcoming you, the Giants and Cards.

PATRICK J. McGRODER,
Parks Commissioner, City of Buffalo and Mayor's Representative in Sports.

CHICAGO CARDINALS STARTING BACKFIELD

Mal Hammack, fb; Joe Childress, rh; Ollie Matson, lh; Lamar McHan, qb.

MAL HAMMACK, Veteran Fullback from U. of Florida, starts 3rd year with the Chicago Cardinals. Born in Roscoe, Texas, June 19, 1933. Was an all-around athlete at Roscoe high before enrolling at Arlington (Tex.) Jr. College. Transferred to U. of Florida where he was described as "A savage linebacker and an outstanding blocker." Played with the Cards in 1955 and then went into Service, returning last year prior to the season opener. In two years with the Cards he has carried the ball 81 times for 318 yards, caught 6 passes for 27 yards, returned 4 kickoffs 65 yards and scored 2 touchdowns. Is terrific competitor who is used on kickoff and receiving teams in addition to playing fullback. Was Cards 3rd draft choice in 1955. Is 6-2, weighs 205.

JOE CHILDRESS, Veteran Halfback from Auburn, starts 3rd season with the Chicago Cardinals. Born Oct. 26, 1933 in Robertsdale, Ala., where he attended high school and came up with 3 letters each in football, baseball and basketball. Earned 3 letters in football at Auburn and was selected to All-Conference and All-American teams. Carried ball 345 teams for 1,818 yards at Auburn and scored 133 points. Scored 65 points in 1954 to become Auburn's All-Time leading scorer. Received Outstanding Player Award for 1954 Gator Bowl game. In two years with Cards Joe has carried the ball 84 times for 371 yards, caught 16 passes good for 228 yards, completed one of two passing attempts — good for 43 yards and scored two touchdowns. Was starting right halfback last year. Cards No. 1 draft choice in 1956. Is six feet, weighs 200.

OLLIE MATSON, Veteran Halfback from the U. of San Francisco, starts 6th season with the Chicago Cardinals. Cards No. 1 draft choice in 1952 after he had finished a spectacular three years at USF where he carried the ball 547 times for 3,166 yards and 41 TD's. He was a unanimous All-America selection and then decided he would compete with the U. S. track team in the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki, Finland. There were a great many, including Olympics Coach Dink Templeton, who thought that Matson would never make the United States team. They didn't figure the indomitable spirit which makes Matson a standout in every thing he goes after. Ollie said "I'll be on the boat," and "on the boat" he was. He was one of the stars of the team in Helsinki. He is the greatest halfback in football.

LAMAR MCHAN, Veteran from U. of Arkansas, Chicago Cardinals No. 1 draft choice in 1954 and the Cards starting QB ever since. Born Dec. 16, 1932 in Lake Village, Ark. where he attended Lakeside High and, according to his questionnaire, came up with 18 letters, 5 each in track and basketball and 4 each in football and baseball. Earned three letters each in football and baseball, was selected to All-Southern, All-Conference and some All-American teams. Played in Blue-Gray and College All-Stars games. Set three-year total offense mark at Arkansas with 3,578 yards. Only Arkansas player to receive Homecoming Award twice. Also received Southwest Conference Sportsmanship Award and Heisman Trophy after the '53 season.

CHICAGO CARDINALS

FRANK "Pop" IVY, Head Coach, a native of Skiatook, Okla., an All-America selection from the U. of Oklahoma and one of the top pass receivers, as well as defensive ends, in the National Football League with the Chicago Cardinals, is starting his first season as head coach for his pro Alma Mater.

Frank was an outstanding end at Oklahoma and "all-team selectors" recognized his ability, aggressiveness and desire by picking him on All-America teams. The Pittsburgh Steelers drafted him following the 1939 season and the Cards made a deal for him prior to the 1940 season.

Frank has had only three jobs since leaving the U. of Oklahoma in 1940 — six years as a player with the Cardinals, six years as assistant coach at Oklahoma and four seasons as head man at Edmonton. During the six seasons Frank was assistant to Wilkinson at Oklahoma the Sooners won 53, lost 5, tied one and won three out of four Bowl games.

BOBBY CONRAD, Rookie Halfback from Texas A. & M., obtained in player trade with New York Giants. Baltimore owed the Giants their fifth draft choice and the New York club had the Colts pick Conrad. Bobby played high school ball in Clifton, Texas, his home town. At Texas A. & M. he played quarterback, halfback and end until last year when he confined his efforts to a halfback spot. He was part of the defensive backfield, along with John Crow, which held opponents to 47 points in ten games last year. On offense the past two seasons, he carried the ball 67 times for 319 yards, caught 7 passes for 98 yards, returned 4 kickoffs for 149 yards, intercepted 2 passes which he returned 34 yards, and scored 26 points—3 TD's and kicked 8 out of 9 point after touchdown attempts.

JIM McCUSKER, Rookie Tackle from U. of Pittsburgh and regarded as one of the hottest prospects to come into pro ball with the Chicago Cardinals. Is 21 years old, native of Jamestown, N. Y., and is 6-2, weighs 245. Cards 2nd draft choice this year. Played in East-West and Senior Bowl games. Milt Bruhn, U. of Wisconsin coach, said "McCusker was the best lineman in the East-West game." Representatives of NFL teams watching Senior Bowl game all agreed "McCusker should be terrific offensive tackle in pro ball."

DICK NOLAN, Veteran Halfback from U. of Maryland, starting defensive right half the past four years for the New York Giants. First year with the Chicago Cardinals who obtained him in a deal — along with Rookie Halfback Bobby Conrad, for Defensive Halfback Lindon Crow and Defensive End Pat Summerall. Was fastest regular member of the Giants. His best season as an interceptor for the Giants was his freshman year when he grabbed 6 enemy tosses. Giants fourth draft choice in 1954. Figures to step into Lindon Crow's defensive halfback post.

NEW YORK GIANTS

JIM LEE HOWELL, Head Coach, took over club in 1954 which had 3-9 record the previous year. Through shrewd trading of draft picks for veterans, rebuilt squad to win World Championship in 1956, the first for the Giants since 1948. His four-year record compares with the best in the NFL, and is far superior to all but three. Howell won 28, lost 18, tied two, and is surpassed in the East only by Paul Brown's 32-14-2. In the West the leaders for the four-year period are Bears 30-17-1 and 29-18-1. Only coach to defeat Brown for sectional honors in 12 years. Runs the job as an executive; he delegates authority to his aides and expects them to use it. Was Giant coach of ends 1949-53. Assistant at Arkansas 1936. End coach at Manhattan College 1940. Head coach at Wagner College for 8-1 record in 1949.

PHIL KING, Rookie Halfback — Drafted No. 1. Key new man for '58, because he has size and other qualifications to play fullback as well as halfback. He therefore allows Coach Howell some liberty to experiment with backfield. Captain in '57, and set all-time rushing record for Vanderbilt. Blue-Gray, Senior Bowl and Gator Bowl games. Corner man on defense. Threw javelin 195 feet and ran as 10-second man on varsity track team. Played freshman basketball. Born June 22, 1936. Part Indian. Nickname "the Chief," Construction worker. Married high school sweetheart, Patsy Dean Keel. Holds ROTC commission, home—Nashville, Tenn.

ROOSEVELT GRIER, Veteran Tackle—Defense, starts 3rd Year. Drafted No. 3 in '55. Sensation on defense as rookie in '55 and vital in Giant title drive in '56. Very big, very fast, very strong. Returns for '58 after year's army duty. In addition to starring role in football at Penn State, was national champion shot putter, at distances around 57 feet. Born July 14, 1933. As jazz pianist and singer, Grier is entertainer of professional quality. Single. Home—Linden, N. J.
