Chalk Up Another One for New York's Old Pros

FRANK GIFFORD
A Runner Again.

FOR the second time in three weeks, the Giants' old pros last Sunday cooled off a hot young contender. Coach Allie Sherman's lads hung a real good one on Dallas' hopeful Cowboys. Beating this rising young team as handily as they did has to be considered one of the best Giant jobs of the year, comparable to their whacking of the Washington Redskins, another upstart.

Despite the conclusive final score, it wasn't an easy game. With a whistling wind out of the open end of the Cotton Bowl at their backs, the Cowboys gave the Giants fits through the first period. Containing the Giant attack and striking forcefully themselves on occasion, Tom Landry's vastly improved team had three shots at scores in the first 15 minutes.

But Sam Baker missed field goal tries of 57 and 42 yards, the shorter attempt after a 15-yard penalty had pushed the Cowboys back from the Giants 22. And a goal-line rebound interception by Allan Webb checked another Dallas advance deep into Giant territory.

Channel 2 televiwers here had resigned themselves to an unhappy afternoon when the tide suddenly changed. Early in the second period, the Giants got untracked. Starting from their 25, they made first downs on their 45 on a power thrust by Phil King, who ran furiously all afternoon, on the Dallas 18, on Y. A. Tittle's 38-yard pass to Aaron Thomas, who substituted valorously at tight end for the bruised Joe Walton, and on the Cowboys' 7, on pile-driving rushes by King and Alex Webster.

Then Coach Sherman made his master move. Handman Joe Morrison was sent in to replace King. Obviously, he brought a play with him. Though Joe wasn't personally involved, it was a dilly.

Tittle fed the ball to Webster on what appeared to be a typical Giant power sweep to the right. It only appeared to be, though. Instead of smashing at the Cowboys' left tackle sector, Alex slipped the ball to Frank Gifford, circling back from his right flanker post.

So, for the first time in two years, Giant fans had the thrill of watching Giff as a ball-carrier. The old master never had it so good. Without need for any personal hipper-dipper—the Cowboys were completely fooled — Frank ambled across the goal-line untouched.

Dallas never recovered from the shock. On the first play after the ensuing Giant kick-off, the Cowboys fumbled. Andy Robustelli, another of the 36 Giant participants who played an outstanding game, pounced on the errant pigskin on the home 17. Showing no mercy to the now-bewildered opposition, Tittle immediately went overhead and drilled a pay-off pass to Del Shofner.

Almost right away, the Giants had another scoring chance, thanks to a bad-bounce punt by Sam Baker that boomeranged from midfield all the way back to the Dallas 32. A pass interference penalty, for hampering Gifford, who was about to break away, put the ball on the 8. After Giff narrowly missed connections with Shofner in the end zone on a passing variation of the end-around sweep that had clicked before, Don Chandler booted a 16-yard field goal.

ALLIE SHERMAN

Still hungry, the Giants scored again a couple of minutes later when Tittle, after hitting Shofner for a 50-yard gain, hung one on a peg for Gifford on a touchdown play that covered 24 yards.

The 24 points they scored in this devastating 10-minute second-period outburst settled things for the Giants. But they kept the heat on. Chandler booted a 37-yard field goal in the third period. In the fourth quarter Ralph Guglielmi, who had just relieved Tittle, fired a 40-yard scoring pass to Shofner, after Y. A. had hit Del with a 22-yard bell-ringer.

New York's rounded display of mastery squelched Dallas' burgeoning title hopes, temporarily at least.

But that was last Sunday . . . and this Sunday is what counts. Today the Giants meet a good Eagle team that has to be rather petulant after the clobbering it took from the Packers a week ago. It will be interesting to see what develops.

What Counts is That Johnny Has Speed and Heart

GIANT rookie halfback Johnny Counts, a slightly-built 170-pounder, thinks he's found a way to survive in a big man's game.

"I figure if I run fast enough I can keep away from them," says the ex-Illinois speedster who is getting his first taste of NFL championship play with the Maramen this season.

By "them," Counts means the burly 270-pound defensive linemen who seem to lurk on every side when he carries the ball for the Eastern champs.

Mopping his brow after the Giants' final pre-season game against the Eagles at Princeton, the wiry 5-10 newcomer remarked, "Man, I've never seen as many big guys as they have in this league."

Then he smiled and added:

"But I like to think a lot of them are on my side, too. That helps us little fellows."

However, Johnny Counts hasn't needed much help; he's making the grade on his own—thanks to a pair of flying feet and gobs of resolution.

Appearing only briefly in five pre-season games, Johnny ran the ball 24 times for 129 yards, making him the club's third best ground-gainer. He also caught three passes for another 57 yards. Coach Allie Sherman's decision to go with the "Elephant Backfield" that features Alex Webster and Phil King in the running spots has side-tracked Johnny since the regular season started.

But he has been an important Giant addition as a kick-off and punt return man. He gives the Giants blinding speed in the open field, the kind of speed they've lacked for some time. Counts has been averaging 35 yards, give or take a few, on kick-offs and frequently has gone from the end zone up past the 40-yard line. Similarly, on several occasions he has almost broken loose for long touchdown runs hauling in enemy punts. He runs kicks back with dash, daring and determination.

The word already is circulating around the NFL that Counts is a guy you have to watch, like you watch Bobby Mitchell and Jon Arnett and some of the other mercurial halfbacks who pose that long-ball threat.

It's quite a tribute for the skinny rookie who joined the Maramen this summer after laboring two seasons on the semi-pro gridirons of New York and Connecticut.

When Johnny first reported to camp, someone took a quick look at his under-sized frame and cracked, "He may be fast but he'll never stand up to the pounding in this league."

Up to this point, though, Counts not only has survived the physical punishment—he's actually thriving on it. There's no doubt in anyone's mind that he's going to make it, and big!

A high school football and track star at New Rochelle, Counts played for the University of Illinois in 1959 and was named Sophomore of the Year in the Big Ten. Then he flunked a course and left school to accept a handsome offer from the Toronto Argonauts.

"But I hurt my leg in the first exhibition game," he says, "and that was it. They cut me. That was two years ago. I came back and played semi-pro ball with the Stamford (Conn.) Bears."

Guido Cribari, a close personal friend of Johnny and sports editor of a chain of Westchester newspapers, notified Giant general manager Ray Walsh that Counts was available. Walsh immediately signed him as a free agent.

It could be one of the wisest moves Walsh—and the Giants—ever made. If Johnny continues at his present pace, he could become a ranking star in the National Football League.

Meanwhile, Counts is adhering closely to his new philosophy. "When I see that hole open," he says, "I'm really goin'. I'm not waiting to look at any of those big guys." They've been getting only fleeting glances of him, too.

That's fine with the Giants. They hope Johnny doesn't wait for anyone on his way to the end zone.

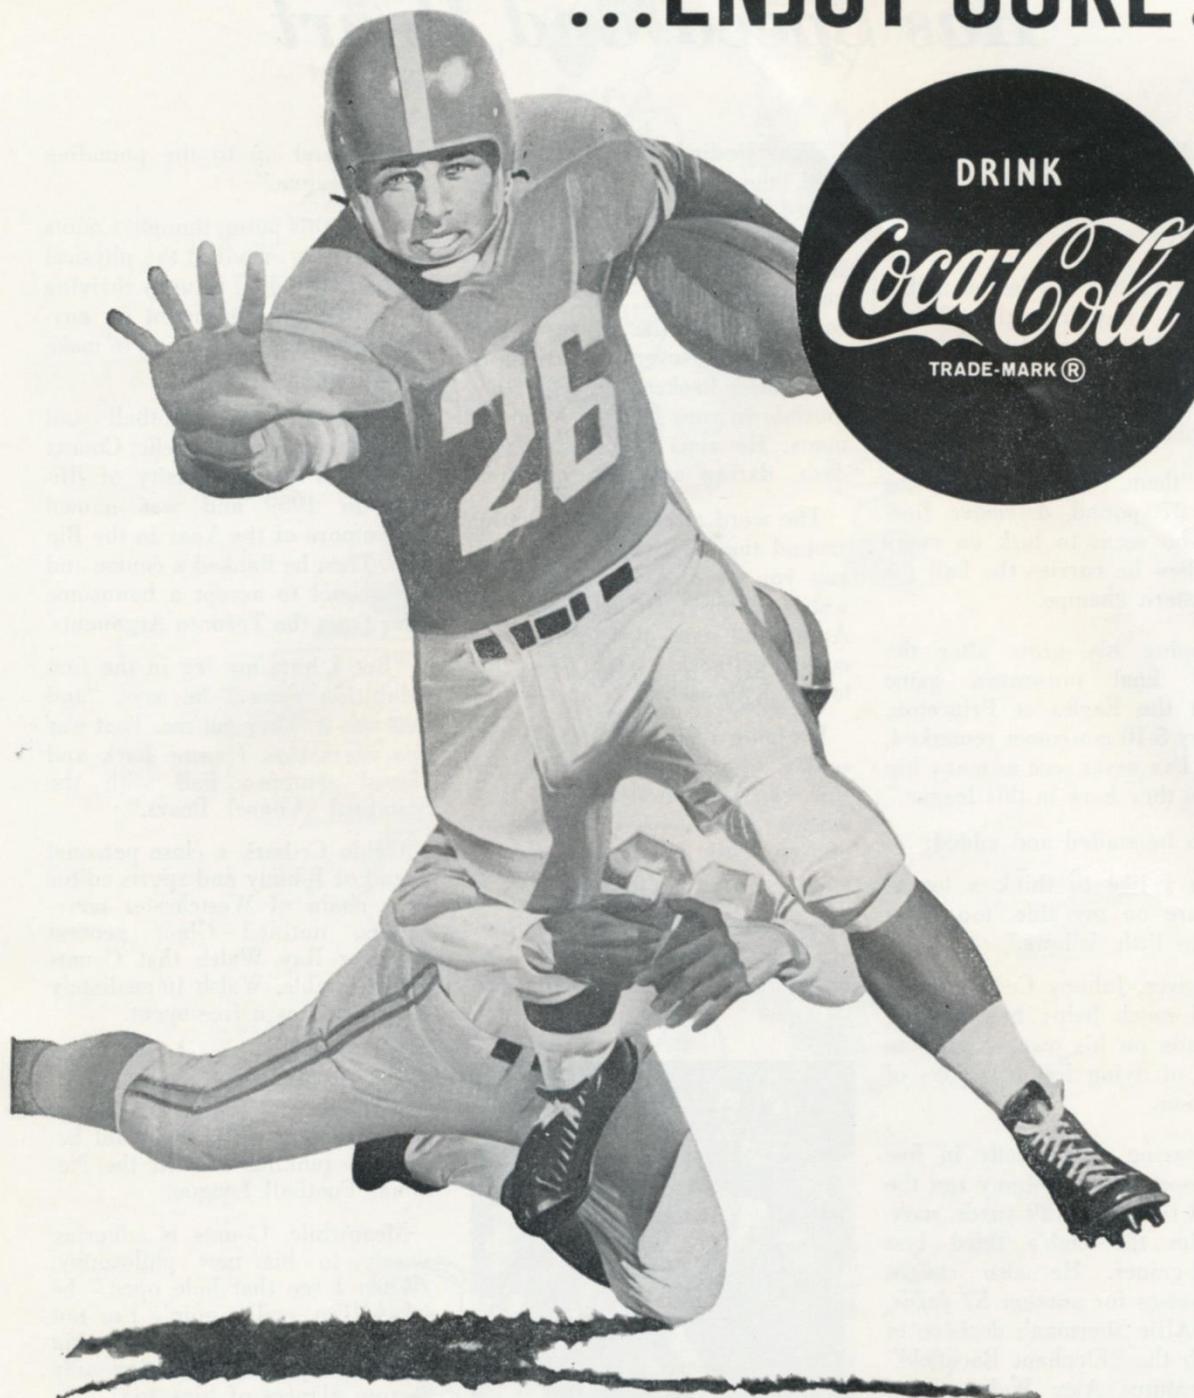

It's always nice to see a local boy make good, particularly with the Giants.

...ENJOY COKE!

Y. A. Tittle (14) is the NFL's senior quarterback at 35 years old, but one would never guess it to watch him in sprightly action. Acquired from the 49ers in a pre-season 1961 trade, Y. A. paced the Giants to the Eastern title with his thread-needle passing and fiery leadership. Going into his 14th pro season, he had completed 1,859 passes—tops in the game.

Y. A. Tittle

The Giants consider themselves highly fortunate in having come up with since 1961 so well-qualified an alternate quarterback as Ralph Guglielmi (9). This All-America from Notre Dame saw four years of service with the Redskins and also put in a season with the Cardinals. Goog knows the NFL ropes, passes and handles the ball expertly and is a strong, elusive runner. He'll put in a lot of playing time in support of Y. A. Tittle.

Giant Close-Ups

Andy Robustelli

Del Shofner

Long noted as the most dangerous deep pass receiver in the NFL, Del Shofner (85) hit peak efficiency with the Giants in 1961. His 68 receptions were good for 1,125 yards, a total that led the league, and he scored 11 TDs. The Giants snagged Del, a 1957 Baylor graduate, in a pre-season deal with the Rams. In combination with Y. A. Tittle, he gave them an offensive boost that helped them win the Eastern title.

Andy Robustelli (81), the Giants' defensive coach, has established himself as one of pro football's greatest defensive ends in 12 seasons of brilliant play with the Los Angeles Rams and the Giants, who acquired him in 1956 in exchange for a future draft choice. Strong, quick and blessed with an uncanny sense of anticipation, Robustelli specializes in harassing enemy passers and in piling up running plays in their inception. A native of Stamford, Conn., where he still makes his home, Andy attended Arnold College, now defunct.

Warning: icy roads ahead...bad weather...more driving after dark. This is no time to be without seat belts.

Have a Chevron Dealer put them in your car this week. Cost? $5.95 each, installed free.

Accidents do happen. When they do, seat belts save lives, cut injuries. That's why we urge you to get belts...and use them.

Is your car ready for winter driving? Unless it's equipped with seat belts, the answer is a firm "no." Why? The majority of serious automobile injuries occur at less than 40 mph, and within 25 miles of home. That's just the kind of driving you'll probably be doing a lot of this winter...plenty of it on slippery roads.

Many people have paid $12.95 each for the same belts that most Chevron Dealers are offering for only $5.95. The belts are made by Davis Aircraft Products of 100% Caprolan® nylon, with adjustable, quick-opening buckles of strong aircraft aluminum. They exceed all known automotive safety standards—including the tough GSA requirements set by the U.S. Government.

If you don't have belts in your car, by all means have them installed before winter sets in. This week would be better than next. See your Chevron Dealer.

Don Chandler

Tom Scott

Tom Scott, an All-American selection in lacrosse as well as in football at the University of Virginia, is a battle-tempered gridiron pro who has done a tremendous job for the Giants since his acquisition from the Eagles in 1959. One of the NFL's top defensive ends when the 5-man line still was in vogue. Tom performs equally well on the flank and as a corner linebacker. He has taken over at the latter spot as a regular this year.

Giant fans are seeing Don Chandler (34) in a new role this season. Besides handling the punting assignment, which he has done admirably for six years, the strong-legged Florida graduate has taken over the place-kicking chores abandoned by the retired Pat Summerall. Don is doing better than just all right at his additional new job. He's getting both distance and direction on his placements.

Giant Close-Ups

Aaron Thomas

For insurance against injuries to Del Shofner and Frank Gifford, their prime deep pass receivers, the Giants got big Aaron Thomas (88) from the 49ers early this season in exchange for Bob Gaiters. The 6-foot-3, 208-pound Oregon State graduate, who hauled down 15 passes for 301 yards as a 1961 rookie with San Francisco, can go get 'em.

Allan Webb

Signed last year as a free agent, Allan Webb (21) has done a terrific job for the Giants, as a spare running back, a reserve defensive back and now as the defensive unit's regular left safetyman. Like Andy Robustelli a graduate of little Arnold College, now defunct, Webb kept active in football as a sand-lotter waiting for the big chance that finally came in 1961. During the off-season he serves as recreation director for the Connecticut State prison.

Ken Byers

In their quest for added line depth, the Giants made Ken Byers (60) their No. 7 choice in last winter's draft. The 240-pound Cincinnati graduate has proved to be a valuable acquisition. Primarily a tackle in college, Ken is serviceable anywhere on the defensive rushline and also can be used as a linebacker or up front on offense.

IT'S back on the road for the Giants the next two Sundays to play the Redskins in Washington and then the Bears in Chicago. Don't forget to watch these key games on CBS-TV (Channel 2) or to listen in on WNEW, 1130 kc. Chris Schenkel and Pat Summerall, on TV, and Marty Glickman, Joe Hasel and Al DeRogatis, on radio, will do their usual fine job of keeping you posted.

Our boys will return to the Stadium on Sunday, Dec. 9, to face the always formidable Cleveland Browns. Jimmy Brown and Co. have been taking more than their accustomed share of lumps this season and can be counted on to arrive in a surly mood. It should make for a lot of fun—for you in the seats, if not for the men on the field.

Talking about seats, if you don't already have your tickets for the Cleveland game, forget about coming to the Stadium. Organize one of those TV safaris to Connecticut or plan to cozy up to your radio at home that Sunday. This game has been a sell-out for weeks.

However, if you act real fast, you just might still be able to get tickets for the Dallas game, which closes the Giants' regular home schedule on Dec. 16. But remember, we only said "might."

Series Review

THE Giants will be seeking their fourth straight victory over the Eagles today. In a series that began in 1933, the New Yorkers hold a commanding 36-20-1 edge. However, the Eagles have had their innings along the way.

Greasy Neale's great teams of 1947, 1948 and 1949 swept the home-and-home series those years and, en route to their 1960 league title, the Eagles also defeated the Giants twice.

The Giants recorded sweeps in 11 years—1933, 1935, 1937, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1942, 1950, 1951, 1956 and 1961.

The complete series record:

FRANK GIFFORD

FRANK Gifford, who with each game looks more and more like the Gifford of old, and Dick Modzelewski, that solid sender who never plays anything but well, were the Giant award winners in the last Giant home against the Cardinals.

Giff bagged two prizes. He received the Kinney Award (one year's free use of a Kinney rental car) as the outstanding Giant player of the game and the J. P. Stevens Award (a wardrobe of sports clothes) as the top Giant performer on offense. If you'll recall, Frank caught scoring passes of 39 and 33 yards from Y. A. Tittle and generally gave the Cardinals' secondary, notably Billy Stack, fits.

On a generally dull afternoon for the Giants on defense, Mighty Mo stood out by piling in relentlessly on Charlie Johnson, the young St. Louis passer who gave our boys such a bad time. Modzelewski's performance earned him the Stevens Award for defense.

These awards are presented for

Giant Jottings

The following letter, recently received by John V. Mara, the president of the Giants, is printed as a matter of interest to Giant fans.

Dear Mr. Mara:

Although we have never met personally, I do feel that I owe you a personal THANKS for your hospitality.

The following is relative to the reason for writing this letter. From grammar school through high school, I played tail-back on the single wing offense and defensive line-backer. I captained the varsity squad in my final year at prep school and was offered several college scholarships. I refused these offers and entered N. C. State as student and Wolf-pack spectator. More than once, I had the pleasure of observing the hard-nosed antics by Alex ("Red") Webster . . . especially when greeting the Blue Devils of Duke.

In the spring of 1957, I broke my neck (cervicals 6/7) as a result of a fall while working in Naples, Florida. I now live my life and work in a wheelchair. . . . During my rehabilitation program at the Rusk Institute in New York, I was escorted to Yankee Stadium to view one of the Giant football games and I can tell you that this visit meant great deal to me. I felt fully alive again for the first time since the accident.

Your games are telecast up here, but for the past four years I have driven my hand-control car 2½ hours down and back in order to witness the Giants in action.

In conclusion, I wish to thank you, your staff, the players, and all those responsible for allowing me free admission and the privilege of watching pro football "at its best" from a position right on the field level.

With hopes that the Maramen whip the Packers for the world title,

I remain,

Gratefully yours,

A GIANT FAN,
Great Barrington, Mass.

Y. A. Tittle's great show against the Cowboys at Dallas put the Giant quarterback on top of the NFL passing standings . . . Tittle's three touchdown passes gave him 22 for the season, tying the Giant club record Charlie Conerly set as a rookie in 1948 . . . Del Shofner has moved up to fifth spot among the league's pass-catchers, with 39 receptions good for 837 yards (the third highest total) . . . Don Chandler's place-kicking ledger shows 31 of 32 extra points and 10 of 16 field goals (his FG percentage of .625 is tops in the league) . . . The National League draft of 1962 college stars will be held in Chicago on Dec. 3. Making their selections in the reverse order of their percentage standings, the 14 NFL clubs each will pick 20 players.

The Giants choose United Air Lines for team travel

Most professional athletic teams—such as the New York Giants—choose United for their team travel. One reason: schedule convenience. United flies more jets . . . more often . . . to more cities . . . than any other airline.

But an even more important reason to choose United is the Extra Care we take with every detail of every trip.

So next time you travel — for business or pleasure — fly United, the Extra Care airline offering the most jets to the most U.S. cities.

Looking Over: The Eagles

SONNY JURGENSEN

COACH NICK SKORICH

TOMMY McDONALD

THREE'S no way of glossing it over—particularly after their crushing 49-0 defeat of last Sunday by the Packers—the Eagles are having a bad year. But you'd have to be out of your mind to sell this football team short. It won't even qualify as a surprise if the Philadelphians suddenly get flying again and ground the Giants today.

In football, any team that can score has to be respected. The Eagles can do just that—early, often and from any range, when they are clicking.

They have football's most feared pass-receiver in Tommy McDonald, who in the last few seasons has left more opposing corner halfbacks flat on their faces beating the turf in frustration than any other N.F.L. flanker.

In a deal with the Browns, the Eagles recently picked up another breakaway ball-shagger of the same stripe in Howard (Hopalong) Cassady.

Dick Lucas, at right end, is a third deep threat and Coach Nick Skorich is carefully bringing along a young man named Frank Budd. Not having played football until this year since his high school days, Frank has lots to learn. But, as the world record-holder for the 100-yard and 100-meter dashes, he has the basic qualification of speed.

Philadelphia also has an artful angler and hooker in veteran

Bobby Walston, who has the additional virtue of being one of the best place-kickers in the business.

Pass-receivers don't mean a thing unless there are pass-throwers who can get the ball to them. Sonny Jurgensen has demonstrated that ability, to the extent that Eagle fans considered him in 1961 to be even an improvement on the great Norm Van Brocklin, who piloted the Eagles to the 1960 NFL championship.

Recently, King Hill, Philadelphia's nominal No. 2 quarterback, has been so effectively flapping his throwing wing, too, that he is challenging Jurgensen for the top spot.

The Eagles are most dangerous aloft but they have breakaway runners in Tim Brown, a-will-o'-the-wisp on punt and kick-off returns, and Clarence (Hi) Peaks, a hard-nosed basher who can get up and go in the open.

There are competent pros up front in the offensive line—such as Jim Schrader at center, John Wittenborn and Roy Hord at the guards and Jim McCusker and J. D. Smith at the tackle. And Pete Case, a young tackle from Georgia, is considered to be a real comer.

Inexplicably, these demonstrated good players haven't clicked this year. But the dynamite still is there. The Giants' defensive platoon will be sitting on a powder keg this afternoon.

Defensively the Eagles are vulnerable. A particularly big blow was the loss of all-league halfback Tom Brookshier, who cracked up a leg so badly last season that he had to call it quits. But despite the Green Bay debacle, they're a long way from being push-overs.

On the rushline, Philadelphia presents Gene Gossage, Riley Gunnels, Joe Lewis and Bobby Richards, with Dick Stafford and John Kapele in reserve.

They have one of the NFL's most respected young linebackers in Maxie Baughan, who plays the right side, and another rising star on the left in John Nocera.

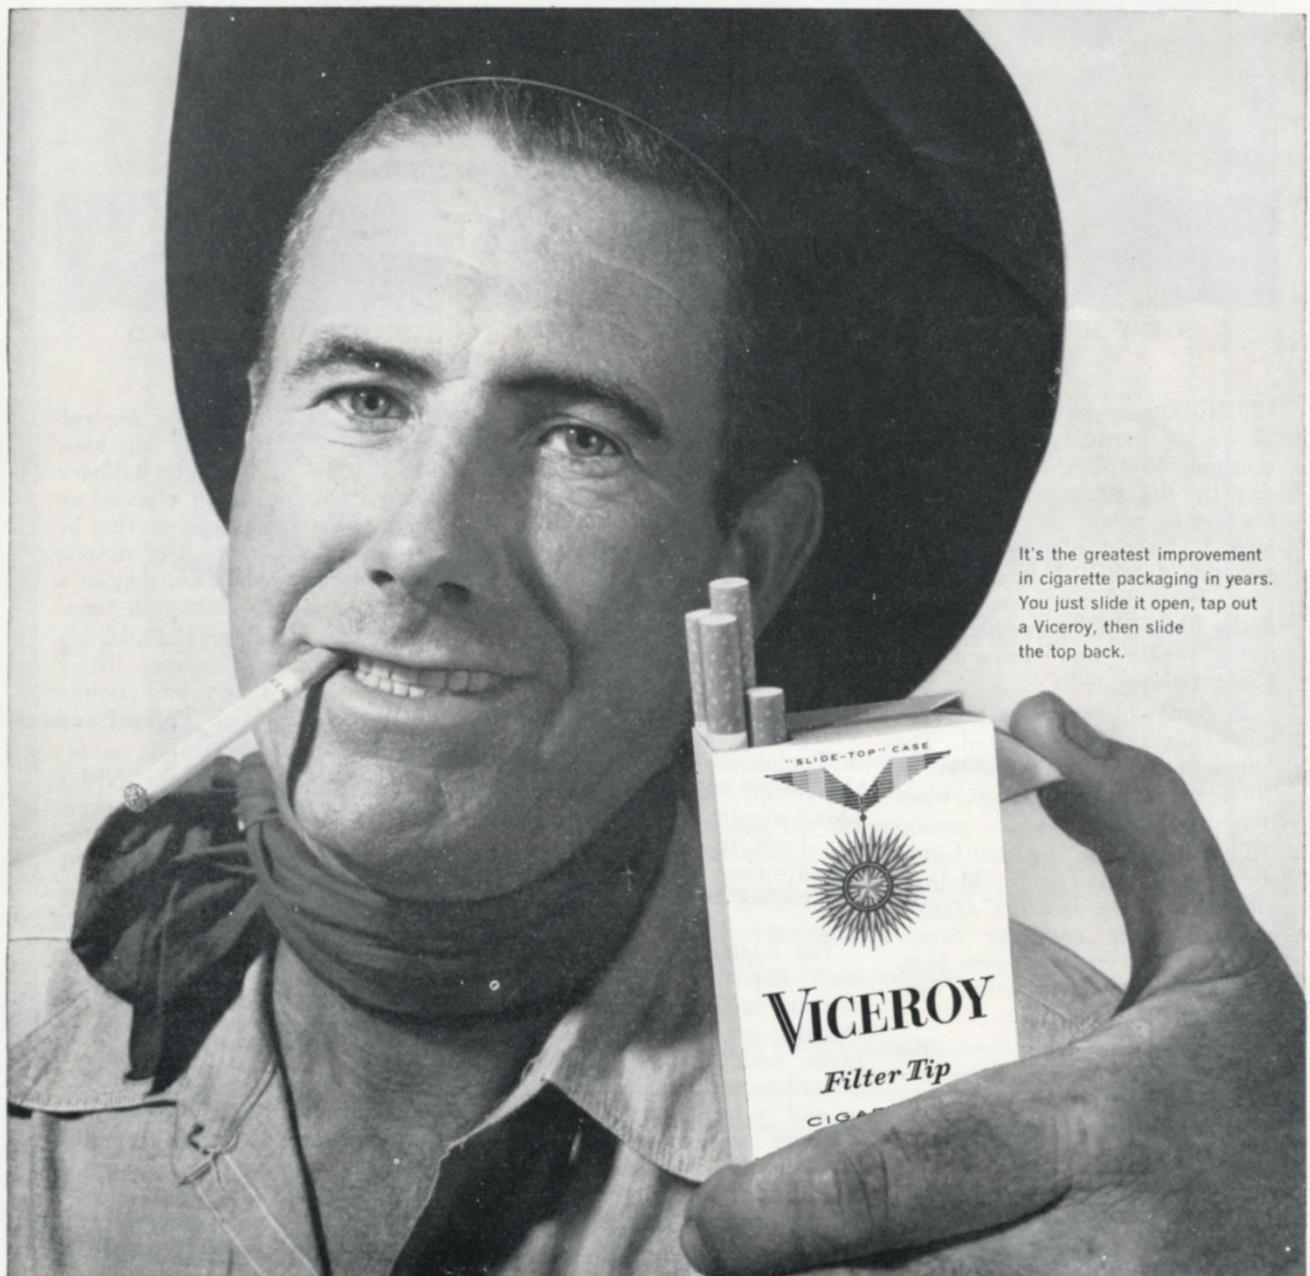

These capable junior operatives flank one of football's most distinguished senior citizens, the great Chuck Bednarik, still a destructive force at the admitted age of 37.

In the deep secondary, there are good men, too. Fiery Ben Scotti, acquired since last year from the Redskins, and Irv Cross, who has star potential, play the corners. Fleet Jimmy Carr and rangy Don Burroughs fill the safety positions, with rookie Mike McClellan as the back-up man at all spots.

Except for the strange bounces that footballs tend to take, there's no ready answer to why the Eagles have fared so poorly this year. All the more so for their lack of success to date, they could be a rough opponent for the Giants today.

Phil King

Phil King (24), first choice of the Giants in the 1958 draft, had an outstanding rookie year, gaining 316 yards rushing and 132 yards on pass receptions as a backfield swing man. Mainly because of injuries, he was largely by-passed the next three seasons. Now he is very much back in the picture. The Chief, as Phil is called because he has some Indian blood, has power and speed, Vanderbilt was his school.

Rosy Grier

Big Rosy Grier (76), a third-round draft pick in 1955, has been a Giant defensive mainstay at right tackle even since his rookie season. For all his 290 pounds, Rosy is as quick as a cat on his feet. Out of Linden, N. J., he played his college ball at Penn State, where he also excelled as a shot-putter and discus-thrower. A man of many talents, Grier also has a rich baritone voice and is making his mark as a concert and recording artist.

Giant Close-Ups

Darrell Dess

Darrell Dess (62) came to the Giants in 1959 via the Washington Redskins and Pittsburgh Steelers. Since joining the club, the stocky 235-pound graduate of North Carolina State has been a starter more often than not at left guard on the offensive unit. A wrestling star in college, he has the strength and weight to make his blocks stick and the speed of foot to get out ahead of the ball-carrier on wide plays.

Paul Dudley

When Green Bay, caught in a personnel squeeze, reluctantly let Paul Dudley (23) go in their final cutdown, the Giants joyously jumped at the chance of adding him to their roster. A star all-round performer at Arkansas, the fleet, wiry 185-pound Dudley has the makings of a topnotch running back and pass-receiver. He also knows the ropes on defense. The Giants rate him highly.

Jimmy Patton

When Jimmy Patton (20) tried out with the Giants in 1955 as an 180-pound rookie out of Mississippi, sideline observers said: "He'll never make it; he's too small." Jimmy made his critics eat their words. Not only did he make it but he made it big from the start and for the last 5 years has been the NFL's acknowledged top all-around safetyman. Patton not only knows how to make all the plays but knows why and when to make them, for which reason he has served as a playing coach the last three seasons.

KNOW YOUR FOOTBALL?

HOW MANY INSIGNIA CAN YOU IDENTIFY?

Some may stop you, but most of these famous emblems speak for themselves. Take number fifteen. No guesswork there. It's the famous Ballantine 3-Ring Sign! You'll find it wherever folks enjoy great football, because the fun of a game, and the great taste of Ballantine naturally go together. Why not find that out for yourself. Next time, make it Ballantine—the Golden Harvest beer with that special Golden Mellow flavor.

Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants lined to Bobby Richardson and the thrilling 1962 World Series was over. Ralph Terry had pitched the Yankees to their 20th World Championship, and his joyous teammates carried him off the field. But they'll be back in April with more excitement and more thrills. Why not take advantage of the Yankees' COMBINATION TICKET PLAN which entitles you to the same choice seat for 46 big games on 36 dates as well as the opportunity to obtain World Series tickets if the Yankees successfully defend their crown?

Greg Larson

Greg Larson (53) captain of Minnesota's 1961 Rose Bowl team, joined the Giants last season and immediately established himself as a bright offensive line prospect. A center and linebacker in college, he was a starter at right tackle for most of his rookie season. This year, he has filled in at right guard as well as at tackle. He's also the No. 1 replacement for Ray Wietecha at center.

Ray Wietecha

No center in football, say the Giants, can execute the blocking assignments that Ray Wietecha (55) carries out with practiced ease. The rugged 225-pound Northwestern graduate has fantastic lateral range. Ray also is the iron man of the Giants. Going into this season, he had played in 118 consecutive games and never had missed a minute of offensive play because of injury.
